Autonomy and Mental Disorder

Edited by
Lubomira Radoilska
Contents

List of contributors vii

Introduction: personal autonomy, decisional capacity, and mental disorder ix
Lubomira Radoilska

Part I: Mapping the conceptual landscape

1 Mental disorder and the value(s) of ‘autonomy’ 3
Jane Heal

2 Autonomy and neuroscience 26
Alfred R. Mele

3 Three challenges from delusion for theories of autonomy 44
K.W.M. (Bill) Fulford and Lubomira Radoilska

Part II: Autonomy in light of mental disorder

4 Does mental disorder involve loss of personal autonomy? 77
Derek Bolton and Natalie Banner

5 Rationality and self-knowledge in delusion and confabulation: implications for autonomy as self-governance 100
Lisa Bortolotti, Rochelle Cox, Matthew Broome, and Matteo Mameli

6 Privacy and patient autonomy in mental healthcare 123
Jennifer Radden

Part III: Rethinking capacity and respect for autonomy

7 Clarifying capacity: value and reasons 145
Jules Holroyd

8 The Mental Capacity Act and conceptions of the good 170
Elizabeth Fistein

9 Autonomy, value, and the first person 192
Hallvard Lillehammer
Part IV: Emerging alternatives

10 Autonomy, dialogue, and practical rationality 217
   Guy A.M. Widdershoven and Tineke A. Abma

11 How do I learn to be me again? Autonomy, life skills, and identity 233
   Grant Gillett

12 Autonomy and Ulysses arrangements 252
   Lubomira Radoilska

Index 281